The College of Saint Rose

in Albany, New York

The College of Saint Rose is located on a vibrant urban, 48-acre campus in Albany, New York, the state's capital. Albany is a city that students from both rural and large metropolitan areas find “just right”—surrounded by plenty of outdoor areas including the Hudson Valley and the Adirondack and Catskill mountains.

The College of Saint Rose was founded in 1920 by the Sisters of Saint Joseph of Carondelet, and is a private, independent, co-educational college. With a student-to-faculty ratio of 14:1, you will receive individual attention in every class from professors who will be your mentors. With over 50 undergraduate degree programs, more than 35 graduate programs, and multiple dual-degree and certificate programs to choose from, Saint Rose will provide you with the tools you need for life after college—a résumé with

Students have the opportunity to join one of the many student clubs that have an academic, social, or community service focus. Campus life at Saint Rose has everything from music, dance, or drama performances by our students, to opportunities to participate in intramurals, outdoor adventures, and martial arts. The Massry Center for the Arts offers performances by famous artists in the worlds of music and art. There is a wide array of community service experiences from working with local school children to building homes for Habitat for Humanity.

Students have the opportunity to make a difference in their communities, and to explore the world with Saint Rose. Check out Saint Rose videos, read the student blog, and connect on Facebook and Twitter to see the amazing things that Saint Rose students are doing!
