

EducationUSA Canada Spotlights

Coastal Carolina University

In Myrtle Beach, South Carolina

Coastal Carolina University (CCU) is a dynamic and public institution located near the beautiful recreational destination of Myrtle Beach, South Carolina, USA, which attracts more than 15 million visitors annually.

More than 10,000 students enrolled from all 50 states and 65 countries make up a diverse global community of students, scholars, and faculty.

In 2016, 1,300 CCU students conducted research projects, working alongside distinguished faculty, and 1,900 CCU students participated in professional practical training internships among 72 major fields of study.

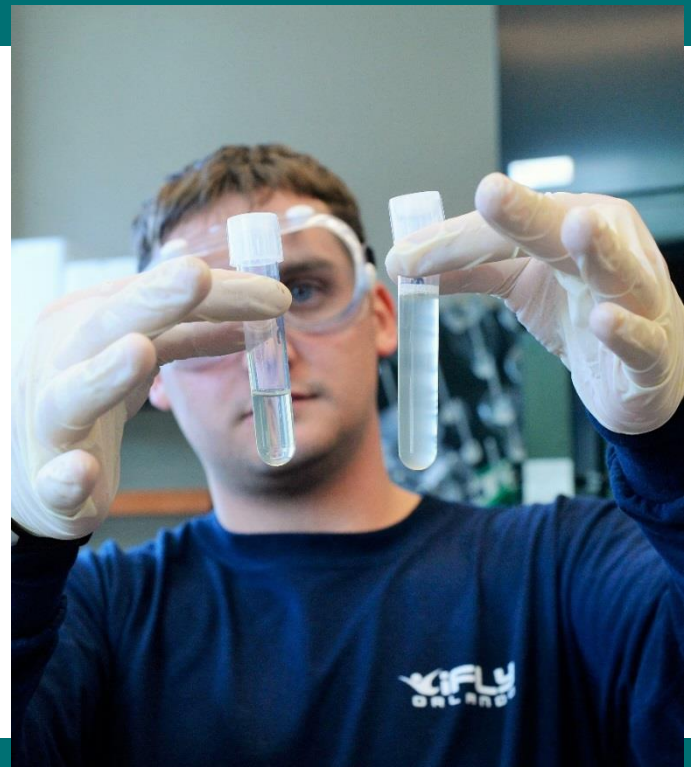

Coastal Carolina has a variety of scholar programs:

Wall Fellows Program is designed to prepare top students for high level careers in international organizations.

CoBE Fellows gain invaluable work experience by participating in real life innovative business projects.

Swain Scholars research health related issues.

Jackson Scholars are trained in leadership.

Coastal Carolina University offers 72 academic programs at bachelor's, master's, and doctoral level in the following colleges: College of Business Administration, Spadoni College of Education, Edwards College of Humanities and Fine Arts, and the College of Science.

Many Canadian students have taken interest in the Sport Management (Bachelor and Master degree), Computer Science, Management (MBA), Hospitality, Resort and Tourism Management, Marine Science and several of our Social Science and Fine Arts programs. Some students have earned scholarships for their undergraduate studies and graduate assistantships that help with their tuition waivers.

For more information, email Coastal Carolina University at internationaladmissions@coastal.edu.