

EducationUSA Canada Spotlights

Lewis-Clark State College

in Lewiston, Idaho

Lewis-Clark State College \(LCSC\), in Lewiston, Idaho, is nestled in a river valley where students get to experience all 4 seasons. LCSC has around 4500 students including more than 100 international students from more than 30 countries.

Established in 1893, LCSC is a teaching focused institution where students receive individual attention and professors know you by name. LCSC offers bachelor degrees and associate degrees. Popular majors include education, business, communication, biology, social work, psychology and kinesiology.

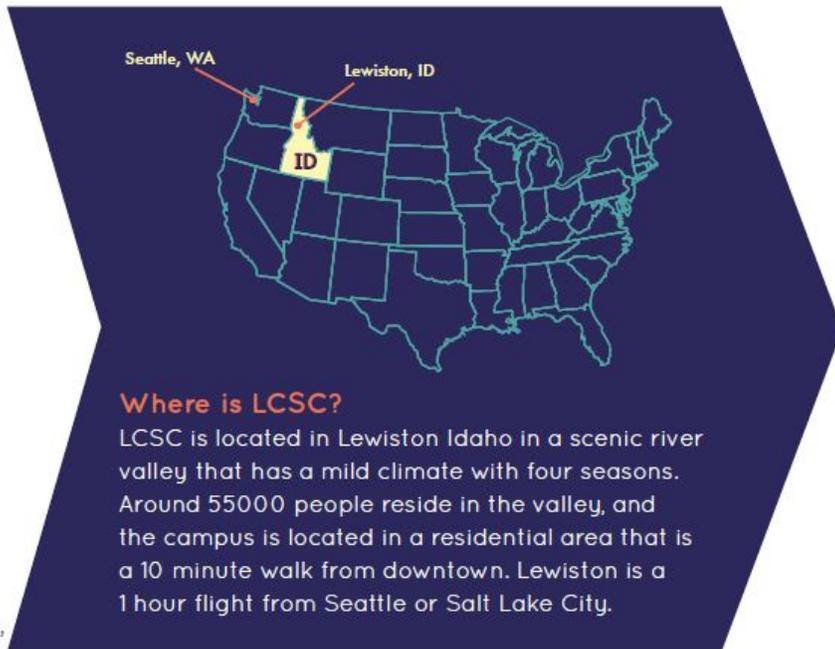

At LCSC, there are opportunities for hands-on learning. Many programs include internships, practicums or cooperative learning experiences. Students have the opportunity for off campus learning with a variety of programs. For example, Earth Sciences hosts a trip to Yellowstone and Humanities takes students to the Ashland Shakespeare festival.

LCSC also has many ways to get involved outside of the classroom. LCSC's radio station, Intramural Sports, Outdoor Recreation, Theatre department, and clubs and organizations add vitality to campus life.

LCSC participates in the National Association of Intercollegiate Athletics (NAIA) in baseball, basketball, golf, cross country, tennis, track and field, and volleyball. Many athletes are international students who receive generous scholarships. LCSC hosts the NAIA Baseball World Series and has won 18 world championships, including the last two years. Go Warriors!

The International Programs Office at LCSC offers a “one-stop shop” for all matters international including admissions, orientation, advising, employment, and student activities.

International students at LCSC with a GPA of 2.5 automatically qualify for a $3500 per year scholarship, which can increase up to $5000 per year based on GPA.

What do students have to say about LCSC? Canadian Adam Cook (below) says, “I really like the small class sizes which makes for better quality. The campus is really nice, with good sport teams.”

