

EducationUSA Canada spotlights

Springfield College

in Springfield, Massachusetts

Springfield College is located in picturesque New England and is situated on the shores of Lake Massasoit in Springfield, Massachusetts. Centrally located to a variety of attractions, restaurants, and entertainment venues, there's always something to do. Across the lake is East Campus, which is 57 acres of forest ecosystem, owned by Springfield College, in the center of the city. The College also has regional campuses across the country through its School of Professional and Continuing Studies.

Since 1885, Springfield College has had a singular focus on educating students—in spirit, mind, and body—for leadership in service to others. It is called the Humanics philosophy. The world has changed since 1885, and programs and approaches at Springfield College have too. New academic programs, renovations, construction, and other major developments have ensured that the College remains relevant to today's students and society. One thing that hasn't changed is its Humanics focus.

A Humanics focus means that Springfield places great emphasis on helping students grow their whole person, enter fields that help others, and serve as leaders in their communities, organizations, and companies, at home and around the world. The College offers a range of undergraduate and graduate programs in health care, human services, social work, exercise science and sport studies, physical education, education, business, psychology and counseling, communications, computer technology, mathematics, science, social sciences, and the arts. It also offers doctoral programs in physical education, physical therapy, and counseling psychology.

Faculty members are recognized nationally and internationally as experts in their area of study, and they strive to help students achieve their academic and professional goals. A post-graduation survey found that 96 percent of 2015-16 Springfield College bachelor degree recipients were either employed or enrolled in graduate school within six months of graduation. The College's placement rate is 12 percent higher than the national average for similar schools and, on average, higher than other colleges and universities in New England.

A top-ranked college, Springfield College is the best destination for those seeking a well-rounded education, strong academics, and experiential learning opportunities. Outside of the classroom, students spend their time leading service projects, exploring the world through study abroad opportunities, taking advantage of campus clubs and organizations, and getting involved with the institution's 26 NCAA Division III athletics teams.

Springfield College students are making the world a better place—starting with their corner of it. Find out how you can too.

Apply today!